Howie Kahn, accompanist of Reb Shlomo, will introduce the film. Afterwards he will share personal 'Shlomo Stories' during an hour-long kumsitz of Carlebach tunes. Howie Kahn was Shlomo Carlebach's accordionist from 1970-75. He performed with Reb Shlomo numerous times in concert both in the US and Israel. Whether it was at sold-out performances in Carnegie Hall or Jerusalem's Binyanei He'uma, it was Howie who was standing there by the side of the famous 'Singing Rabbi'. Rabbi, folksinger and composer, Shlomo Carlebach passed away a decade ago; yet, Carlebach's life and music has touched millions of Jews and non-Jews across North America, Israel and around the world. This sensitive personal film, takes you on a journey that senses and searches for that touch, for the endless embrace, on a quest for the answer to the question... "Who are you?"
